

Florida Keys Fishing

Enjoy the incredible angling diversity that Islamorada, better known as the "Sport Fishing Capital of the World," has to offer. From novice first timers to the most experienced angler, Islamorada has something to offer everyone. Experience world class fly or spin casting for red fish and snook in the amazing back country of the Florida Bay. Enjoy wonderful light tackle fishing for tarpon and permit or run offshore and go deep sea angling for trophy fish like marlin and sailfish in the blue waters of the Atlantic.

The Florida Keys Backcountry refers to the Gulf waters of the Florida Bay and within the limits of Everglades National Park. It is home to bonefish, permit, tarpon, redfish and snook to name a few. It's the perfect place for fly or spin fishing. There's nothing like a day in the undisturbed peace and quiet of the backcountry – experiencing the birds, the variety of marine life and of course the fishing!

Once you've experienced the wonders of the Florida Bay and the thrill of sight fishing in the Everglades, you definitely want to get "out front" and troll for a trophy. Marlin, sailfish and swordfish are all here, right offshore. If you're looking to take home a trophy fish for your wall or a boat load of dolphin and tuna for the freezer, Islamorada fishing is sure to lure you here.

We're also in the ideal the ideal place for fly fisherman to land game fish like bonefish, permit and tarpon. It's an amazing challenge. Fortunately, jacks, sea trout and Spanish mackerel provide great alternatives and are a little easier to spot. You can also schedule a casting practice day – on or off the water – if you're a little rusty or if you are just learning to fly fish.

Just looking for a great, stress-free day on the water? Let's take the pressure off and go "fun fishing." There's a number of fish species that will keep everyone happy and reeling them in; from barracuda to Spanish mackerel, it's a great way to introduce a non-angler to the sport. Catch a few mangrove snappers and let our chef prepare for your dinner.

Let us be your guide for a perfect day on the water. From couples to families to entire groups, we'll help you put together the right day for your entire crew and the adventure of a lifetime!
